A Message from Key School Bodies

A) A MESSAGE FROM THE KING'S SCHOOL COUNCIL

In 2015, The Council of The King's School met ten times in order to govern the affairs of a School that continues to grow. Record enrolments were enjoyed in 2015 and this required a commensurate increase in building stock in order to accommodate new students.

The start of the year saw the School opening a pre-kinder facility at the Prep School. This splendid initiative will provide a magical preparation for the schooling experience in later years.

Work also started on the third of our four boarding houses. The old Waddy boarding house has been upgraded and doubled in size. Work also commenced on building a new pavilion at the Prep School.

One of the most important tasks for a School Council is to appoint its Head. With Dr Hawkes announcing that he will be retiring at the end of 2016, The Council of The King's School commenced a search for his successor. Many expressions of interest were received from both overseas and nationally. These were processed carefully prior to a decision on Dr Hawkes' successor being made in 2016.

The School's HSC results were outstanding, with the School being ranked 38th in the State. Given that King's is a non-selective boys' school and that there are 46 selective schools in NSW, this was a great achievement. In addition, King's ranked 8th in the State in English ESL and English Standard and 10th in the State in Mathematics, Mathematics Extension 1 and Mathematics Extension 2. It was also pleasing to note that one of our students achieved a perfect ATAR score of 99.95.

It is the clear belief of Council that a school should not just prepare for an exam. A school must prepare for life. Accordingly, Governors were pleased at the ongoing strength of the School's co-curricular program. King's also continues to perform extraordinarily well in the Visual and Performing Arts and in sport. A number of national and state champions were produced throughout the year.

The real strength of King's rests in the relationship between student and teacher. The quality of this relationship is such that the student body is not just challenged academically, but inspired to grow in wisdom and good character. Assisting in this regard has been the School's unique Boys to Men Program in Year 10. Within the Boys to Men Program, a variety of essential life-skills are taught such as cooking, cleaning, car maintenance and the management of financial affairs. In addition, the School's Cadet and Duke of Edinburgh programs contribute to the development of leadership skills and resilience. Development of the student is further advanced by a diverse sports program, notable for high participation rates, quality of coaching, emphasis on sportsmanship and an understanding of the benefits of competition.

In closing, the School Council is pleased King's is fulfilling its mission of being a Christian community that seeks to make an outstanding impact for the good of society through its students and by the quality of its teaching and leadership in education.

Dr R Mackay

Chairman

Council of The King's School

B) A MESSAGE FROM THE SCHOOL CAPTAIN

The morale of the student body throughout 2015 remained high with the School enjoying great spirit and many opportunities to come together as a community. Events included the Anzac Day celebrations, the King's Cadet Corps Regimental Dinner, Annual Passing Out Parade and a variety of sporting functions.

Over recent years, there has been a redefinition of leadership roles amongst the student body. The more hierarchical and authoritarian regimes of previous years have now been replaced by a servant-hearted leadership model that sees senior students acting as mentors for junior students. A good example of this is our Year 10 Leadership Program which not only sees many of our students going overseas on an Exchange Program, but sees them mentoring our Year 7 students.

The student body is mindful of the enormous privilege it has in being educated at King's. Accordingly, the School endeavours to make a rich contribution to schools that may not enjoy the sorts of facilities we have at King's. Throughout 2015, Kingsmen continued to raise money in order to run its school in Bangladesh. The building of this school and its entire operation has been funded by the student body at King's for 16 years. In addition, other fundraising activities have taken place with the School raising many tens of thousands of dollars for a wide variety of charities.

The King's School Cadet Corps continues to grow and reached record numbers in 2015, and our Duke of Edinburgh Program continues to flourish. In Music, many students were engaged with the musical, Jesus Christ Superstar, and in this year's play, The Government Inspector. In addition, there were many musical concerts involving our various choirs and orchestra, and our marching band, once again, partnered with the Royal NSW Lancers to participate in a variety of civic functions including the televised Anzac Day March in Sydney. Many students were also involved in the Merimbula Jazz Festival.

In closing, I am pleased to report that the morale in the School is strong and that this results in the student body developing a great loyalty and affection for their alma mater.

REPORTING AREA 2

Contextual Information about the School and Characteristics of the Student Body

The King's School Parramatta is Australia's oldest independent school and perhaps its best known. Founded in 1831 by command of King William IV of England, King's was established as a boys' school that would provide Australia with its next generation of leaders. Situated on 300 acres of beautiful parkland in the demographic centre of Sydney, King's has also endeavoured to give educational leadership by contributing richly to educational and social debate. Its teaching resources, particularly in the area of boys' education, boarding and the developing of leadership skills, are used around the world.

An academically strong school, King's has a reputation for adding value, with over 80% of its students characteristically going on to university or college. The School has an outstanding gifted and talented program affording the best features of an academically selective school (enriched teaching and sound scholarship designed to realise academic potential), with the best features of a non-selective school (a balanced education and the capacity to improve a boy's academic standards).

King's is in high demand because it offers academic excellence with character development. For example, a unique four year training course in leadership is undertaken by Kingsmen in the Senior School. Crown Princes, leaders of Political Parties, authors, actors, Christian thinkers, military leaders and a wide range of leaders in many other professions have been educated at King's. It is a school committed to the development of good character and those values that are consistent with a caring, Christian community.

King's is a member of the 'Great Public Schools' (GPS) and is one of the leading sports and performing arts schools in the land with many of its students going on to international prominence. A K-12 day and boarding school, King's combines the fine traditions of the past with a modern and contemporary curriculum.

King's accepts boys from four years of age and upwards. The Prep is a boy heaven where fun and exploration combine with serious scholarship to prepare a boy for secondary school. Year 7 is the first year of secondary school and a major point of entry. There are about 360 boarders at King's and about 1140 day students.

Within society, there is often talk about a school either being good academically and at things such as music, drama and chess, or it can be good at the rather more physical pursuits such as sport and cadets. The limitations of this "either – or" thinking have never been allowed to impinge on our thinking at King's. We believe it is entirely possible to excel in both domains of educational activity.

In this, 2015 has been an encouraging year, with The King's School producing excellent academic results as well as some wonderful sporting results. There were also many fine cultural and philanthropic initiatives taken throughout the year – enough to encourage the School community that we are making good progress in our mission to:

Be a Christian community that seeks to make an outstanding impact for the good of society through its students, and by the quality of its teaching and leadership in education.

Leadership in education is expressed in our high profile in the media and a strong contribution to educational debate on matters such as NAPLAN and the “My School” website. The mission of The King's School is to enrich and edify people on both sides of the school gate.

More specific details about the School may be seen at the My School website at <http://www.myschool.edu.au>.

Among staff, ongoing training has occurred in the areas of first aid, occupational health and safety and in child protection. We have continued with our life-skills course for students in Year 10. The Boys to Men program is an iconic educational initiative that seeks to ensure that a King’s education remains relevant not just for a year or two, but for life.

There remains within The King's School, a desire to pursue excellence. The leadership role the School takes in educational debate within Australia is significant and marks King’s as one of the most exciting and innovative schools in the country.

CHARACTERISTICS OF THE STUDENT BODY

Our student body is a pleasing mix of city and country, Australia and overseas, various cultural backgrounds and student ability. Having students of varying ability means that the School has a great opportunity to add value. In this, King’s is hugely successful in that it characteristically outperforms many of the State’s highly selective schools.

In terms of size and composition, in July 2015, the School had 1611 students. Of the 1218 in the secondary school (27.5%) 335 were boarders and (72.5%) 883 were day students. The Preparatory School had a total enrolment of 393. All were day students.

Management of Student Non-Attendance in Secondary School

Parents are required to contact the School if their son is not attending on any given or part of a day. If a student's absence is identified in the morning and a parent has not notified the School, the School will contact parents to confirm their son's absence. After two consecutive days away from School, the School will require a medical certificate.

Boys are required to report to the Staff Centre if they are late, or leaving the School for an appointment during the day. They must return to the Staff Centre upon arrival back at School from their appointment. Parents are required to give their son a note if their son will be leaving the School during the day for an appointment or sign their son's Diary advising of the same.

Staff at the front desk at the Staff Centre of the School carefully monitor students during the school day through the use of the Synergetic system and regularly communicate between the Health Centre and other departments for class absences.

The Synergetic system allows us to monitor the days absent and number of late entries on the student files.

Reports on all the students' movements during the school week are given to both day and boarding Housemasters each week.

Further details regarding the School's policies and procedures on absences can be found in the School's Diary.

ACTUAL STUDENT RETENTION RATES

92% of students who completed Year 12 at the School in 2015 completed Year 10 at The King's School in 2013.

212 students completed Year 12 at the School in 2015. 195 completed Year 10 in 2013.

During Year 10, 12 students left in 2015 to attend other schools. Retention rates over the last two years have been steady. Based on information provided, students who leave at the end of Year 10 or later, choose to attend other schools in Australia, overseas or undertake apprenticeships or University Foundation Courses.

Mr BR Hilliard
Registrar

POST SCHOOL DESTINATIONS

Based on the information provided to the School, many of those students who left in Year 10 or 11, 2015, did so due to a change in family circumstances or to pursue vocational training.

Students who left the School at the end of Year 12 following the HSC examination usually proceeded to tertiary education. Seven students left during Year 12 in 2015 for financial, disciplinary or health reasons.

The wide range of backgrounds and geographical locations of boarding and day families at The King's School means that there can be significant movement in a cohort due to changes in family circumstances, overseas transfers or changes in employment. There is an increase in enrolments in middle and senior years as more students become attracted to the residential experience offered by the School.

THE COUNCIL OF THE KING'S SCHOOL ENROLMENT POLICY

The King's School offers places to boys whom the School considers will contribute positively to the School Community.

The School will assess applicants taking into account factors which include a student's:

- all-round character.
- family's traditional association with the School.
- association with Tudor House.
- wish to be a boarder at the School.

There are typically more applicants than places available. Acceptance into The King's School will be at the School's absolute discretion.

The School is committed to meeting the individual learning and other needs of its students, including student with disabilities. Accordingly:

- the School will only accept and continue the enrolment of a student if it considers that its resources and facilities will be able to meet his needs, with reasonable adjustments where necessary.
- the School reserves the right to refuse to enrol a student who has a disability, if the School is not able to meet his needs, even with reasonable adjustments, or where the reasonable adjustments required to meet those needs would impose an unjustifiable hardship on the School.
- the School may also review any student's enrolment from time to time and may cancel the enrolment if the School, in its discretion, considers that it can no longer meet the student's needs, even with reasonable adjustment, or where the reasonable adjustments required to meet those needs would impose an unjustifiable hardship on the School.

Sons of Old Boys will have priority entry, subject to them demonstrating to the School's satisfaction that they can contribute to, cope with, and benefit from the academic and co-curricular program offered by the School. The same will apply to younger brothers of students, and boys from Tudor House.

Minimum standards of effort, attitude and behaviour will be required of students before they will be allowed to progress to the next year level. If a student should be regarded as deficient in any of these areas, the School may require the student to be counselled, to repeat the year, or to leave the School, in accordance with School policies.

PARENTS' AND/OR STUDENTS' GENERAL COMPLAINTS AND GRIEVANCES RESOLUTION PROCEDURE

The following procedure provides a mechanism by which parents and/or students can seek to have a complaint or grievance addressed.

The procedure is not intended to be overly prescriptive nor to impose unreasonable time limits upon any party. It does seek to raise parents' and/or students' awareness that the School acknowledges that such issues do arise from time to time, and the following describes the arrangements that should be observed in order to assist parents and/or students to resolve them.

The School will seek to ensure that any complaint or grievance is resolved at the earliest opportunity and in a timely manner. However, reasonable periods of time must be allowed for discussion at each level of the procedure.

Level 1 – Local

- 1 The complaint or grievance must initially be dealt with, as close to its source as possible, with graduated steps for further discussion and resolution at higher levels of authority.
- 2 Any complaint or grievance that arises shall, where possible, be settled by discussion at its source between the parent and/or student concerned and the responsible staff member, eg Housemaster, subject teacher, Year Coordinator, Head of an Academic Department, etc. Should it be inappropriate for one of these staff members to be approached, eg that person is the perceived source of the complaint or grievance, then the parent and/or student should approach that staff member's supervisor or manager or another senior member of staff.
- 3 The parent and/or student shall notify the senior staff member, preferably in writing, as to the substance of the complaint or grievance, request a meeting with the senior staff member for bilateral discussions and state the remedy sought.

Level 2 – Higher Internal

- 4 Every opportunity should be given to resolving the complaint or grievance at the Local Level before the matter proceeds to Level 2. A more senior staff member approached to commence the Level 2 process needs to satisfy him or herself that the Local Level process has been exhausted.
- 5 If the matter is not resolved at the Local Level, then the parent and/or student may raise the matter with the more senior staff member eg Deputy Headmaster, Head of Preparatory School or Bursar. At this stage the parent and/or student must make a written submission if they have not already done so. The more senior member of staff will then convene a meeting involving the parent and/or student concerned, and other staff deemed necessary by the senior staff member to progress the matter.
- 6 At the conclusion of the discussions, the senior member of staff may make a finding him or herself as to a suitable outcome or refer the matter to the Headmaster to determine. In either eventuality, the parent and/or student must be provided with a written response as to the findings of the senior member of staff in respect of the complaint or grievance.

Level 3 – Final Internal

- 7 In the event that the matter has not been referred to the Headmaster and the parent and/or student do not agree with the outcome at the Higher Internal Level, they may make a further written submission to the Headmaster requesting that he review the matter. At this stage, the parent and/or student should provide reasons why the Headmaster should review the outcome of the earlier procedure together with any new and additional information that may be available. The Headmaster may take whatever action he deems appropriate, eg convening meetings, interviewing staff etc. in order to determine the matter. Upon the conclusion of the Headmaster's deliberations on the matter he will inform the parent and/or student in writing of his determination of the complaint or grievance.

Level 4 - External

- 8 If the parent and/or student remains dissatisfied then it is acknowledged that they may be entitled to seek assistance from an external person or other appropriate authority. Should that action be taken by the parent and/or student, then the School may also seek external advice in respect of the matter.

The School will review this procedure on a regular basis and any suggested improvements should be forwarded to the Headmaster. It is not intended that this procedure exceed any statutory obligation upon the School.

Complaints or grievances that form the basis of more serious allegations will be dealt with in accordance with the relevant School policy and the School's legal obligations.

Deputy Bursar

REPORTING AREA 10

School Determined Priority Areas for Improvement

A) A report on the 2015 priority areas

i) Academic

- King's set the goal of a Top 50 finish in the 2015 HSC League Table. There was a desire to improve upon the ranking of 2014 which saw the School finish 56th. It was therefore encouraging that the School's HSC results in 2015 saw the School ranked 38th in the State. This was all the more commendable given that the School is non-selective and has to compete against at least 46 selective schools and many other non-government schools that are much more selective in their intake.
- The School continued its initiative to improve literacy skills and our NAPLAN results suggest that we have experienced some success in this area. The compulsion that a greater proportion of written assignments be done by hand rather than typed on a computer has also assisted in preparing our students for the HSC, where most of the exams are handwritten. In addition, the appointment of a colleague to take on the role of School Literacy Coordinator has reaped dividends.
- The Preparatory School timetable was restructured and this has resulted in a 25% increase in the amount of time spent on literacy and numeracy. In addition, the inquiry-based learning model adopted by the Primary Years Program was enriched to give further opportunities for the development of literacy skills.

ii) Staff

- The two key staffing matters for 2015 were to find a new Headmaster of The King's School, effective from the end of 2016, and to find a new Bursar. With the retirement of our current Bursar after 15 years of outstanding service, the School Council instituted a search for a suitable successor. The School was fortunate to attract the services of Mr Dominic Curtin who comes to King's having being the Bursar at Ascham and the CFO of Sydney University.
- The Search for a new Headmaster was extensive with many applicants from overseas as well as nationally. It is anticipated that a successor will be announced early in 2016.

iii) Buildings

- Renovation of the third of our four boarding houses continued throughout 2015. This building will be open and ready for use mid-way through 2016.
- Good progress was also made on the construction of a new pavilion at the Preparatory School. It is anticipated that this will be open early in the New Year.
- The Industrial Arts building was renovated and extended and this has provided much needed space for the growing number of students who choose this subject.

iv) Marketing

- In many ways, the health of the School is determined by the pressure there is on enrolments. In this, 2015 has been a successful year with King's, once again, experiencing record enrolments.

B) A report on priority areas for School improvement in 2016

i) Academic

- Top 50 finish in the HSC League Table.
- Improve Band 6 results in Science and Modern Languages.
- Continue the ongoing drive to improve spelling and writing skills, particularly in the middle school years.
- Review and upgrade the School's online teaching resources so that more effective 'flip' learning can occur in the home.

ii) Administration

- Secure re-registration by BOSTES following a successful school inspection.
- Appoint and induct a Director of Co-Curricular Activities.
- Assist with the induction of the new Headmaster.
- Improve the service provided by Spotless Catering.
- Implement a swipe card student identity system.
- Put in place a new Enterprise Employment Agreement.
- Improve our fiscal monitoring and reporting process.
- Undertake a review of the School's Foundation with a view to implementing new strategies in both friend-raising and fund-raising.

iii) Buildings

- Completing the renovation of the third of our four boarding houses and begin the process of renovation of the fourth of our boarding houses.
- Complete the construction of a new pavilion at the Prep School.
- Keep the Senior School swimming pool operational while drawing up designs for a new Aquatic Centre.
- Complete the electrical upgrade of the tennis courts.

iv) Marketing

- Maintain overall school enrolments in excess 1650 students.
- Enrol at least 340 students as boarders for 2017.
- Ensure a Prep enrolment of 400+.

Initiatives Promoting Respect and Responsibility

Being a Christian school, The King's School takes seriously its requirement to develop pro-social skills within its students, including the development of respect and responsibility.

The School is committed to providing an educational environment in which students feel valued and secure. To achieve this end, the School will seek to create a school-wide culture that:

- Allows students to flourish free from discrimination, harassment or any form of bullying.
- Does not tolerate, condone or trivialise bullying behaviours.
- Is aware of what constitutes bullying behaviour.
- Provides support to the victims of bullying.
- Deals firmly with bullies so that they either stop their bullying or leave the School.

The methods used by the School to discourage bullying will vary from time-to-time, with new initiatives being introduced when thought appropriate. The measures that have been used to discourage bullying at The King's School include, but are not limited to:

- Employing a suitable range of sanctions to deal with and discourage bullies. These sanctions include suspension and expulsion.
- Putting up signage about the School to promote a bully-free environment.
- Printing anti-bullying policies in student diaries and on the School's website.
- Promoting a bully-free environment in assemblies, chapel, tutor periods, Year-level meetings and House meetings.
- Promoting a bully-free environment in the staff handbook, in School policy documents and in occasional articles in publications such as The King's Herald.
- Promoting a bully-free environment in PDHPE classes.
- Undertaking confidential Year-level surveys of student well-being and bullying behaviour and following up on identified bullies and victims.
- Undertaking House surveys on boarder well-being.
- Designing an online assessment of a student's personal feelings related to bullying.
- Conducting exit interviews.
- Ensuring effective pastoral support for students through the appointment of Tutors, Year-level Co-ordinators and Housemasters.
- Incorporating instruction about the School's anti-bullying stance in the Learning Leadership tutorial material used by students in Years 8-11.
- Incorporating anti-bullying guidelines in the Preparatory School's code of behaviour for students.

- Incorporating anti-bullying guidelines in the Duty of Care training program for boarding staff.
- Employing Chaplains and School Counsellors who have specialist skills in helping both victims of bullying and identified bullies.
- Having a prefectorial team that supports the School's anti-bullying policy and who students feel free to inform about any bullying.
- Instituting a Student Support Team to monitor the well-being of students at risk.
- Training staff to detect bullying behaviours.
- Encouraging staff to adopt classroom management techniques that discourage opportunities for bullying behaviours.
- Employing staff who model tolerance, empathy and acceptance of individual differences.
- Encouraging staff to take their supervision duties seriously so that there is a pervasive sense of staff presence when they are on duty.
- Reviewing the School's anti-bullying policy from time-to-time, in order to ensure that it remains effective and relevant.

A wide range of social service projects, both locally and even overseas, also acts to promote respect and responsibility in students. These include fully funding a school in Bangladesh and helping to build an extension to an AIDS orphanage in Uganda.

Respect and responsibility are typically qualities that are reported on in a Senior School student's report.

REPORTING AREA 12

Parent, Student and Teacher Satisfaction

The School has an “open door policy” with parent involvement welcomed. Regular parent/teacher meetings, together with a wide range of other parental gatherings including those of the Parents’ Auxiliary, and a wide range of other parent groups related to Houses, sports and the performing arts, mean there are many opportunities for parents to interact with the School and share their thoughts about those initiatives which they would like to see undertaken.

Parents as well as students are encouraged to contact their son’s Tutor when necessary, and also their Year Coordinator and Housemaster. The House system within the School is particularly strong and provides an excellent means of pastoral support for students. It is often the first point of contact for parents who have any concerns.

Use is made by parents, not only of face-to-face interviews, but email and telephone conversations as well as letters or notes in their son’s Diary if they should wish to communicate with the School. Occasional surveys of parental opinion are undertaken.

Student satisfaction is monitored with use being made of initiatives such as:

- A survey completed by boarders to monitor their well-being and to gather their feedback.
- An exit survey for Year 12 students.
- Bullying and well-being surveys.

Feedback from these surveys indicates that the School community is overwhelmingly pleased with the educational and pastoral offerings of the School.

Those students who might be struggling in some way are often helped by the Student Welfare Committee or by the School Counsellor who meet regularly with the Headmaster to update him on relevant pastoral matters. The School Chaplain plays a similar role with the orbit of his care often extending to include families of the School as well as students.

Regular meetings between the Headmaster and the School Monitors (prefects) also serve as a useful means to gauge the well-being of the School. There is regular weekly feedback to the School Executive from Housemasters as well.

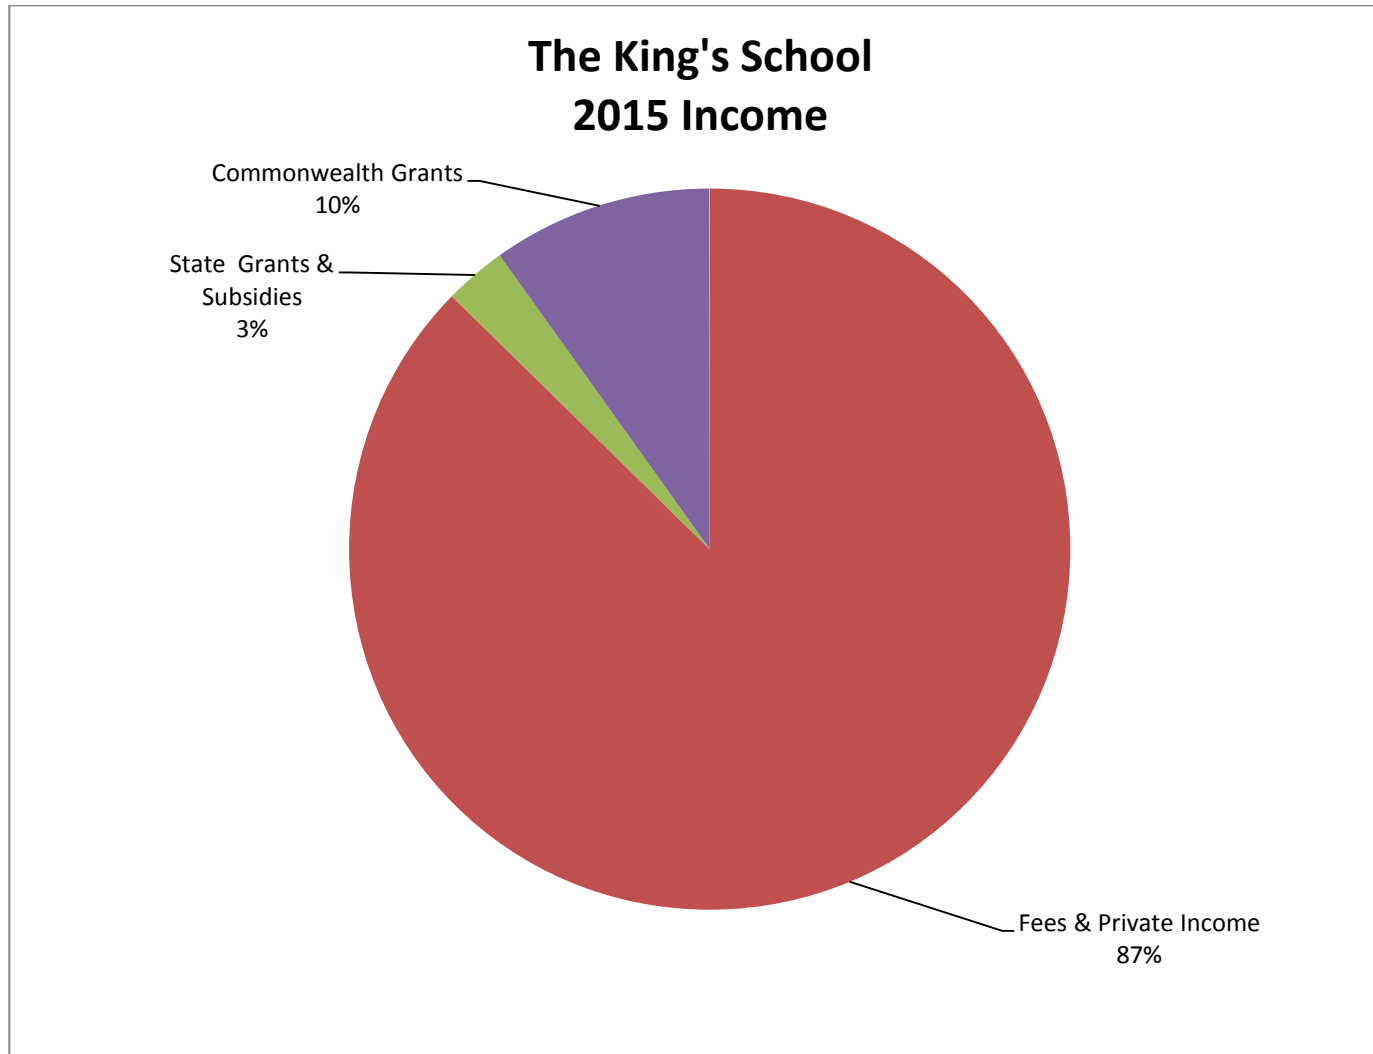

Feedback on teacher well-being is constantly sought from Heads of Department. The Director of Staff has oversight of pastoral matters relating to teachers and support staff. Issues relating to teacher satisfaction are also fed to the School Executive by the Common Room Chair. An extensive biennial staff review and evaluation is also carried out, based on National Teaching Standards. This review provides valuable feedback, encouragement and gives focus to the School’s professional development program. Quite apart from the above, members of the School Executive, including the Headmaster, all have an open door policy and are frequent visitors to the Staff Common Room.

A low teacher turnover hints at the fact that The King's School has a happy and contented staff.

What is Bullying?

- Bullying is the deliberate intention to harm someone who does not have the power to stop it.

- Bullying, harassment or any form of discrimination, is immoral and can be unlawful because it interferes with the right of a person to feel safe and valued as a member of a community.

- Bullying takes many forms. It can be:
 - Face-to-face such as fighting, pushing, taunting, insulting, embarrassing, intimidating and invading personal space, AND Behind-the-back such as writing threatening or offensive messages, sending distressing emails and writing anonymous notes that are hurtful.
 - Done individually such as a person mocking or teasing someone, AND It can be done as a group by such means as social exclusion or hate group recruitment.
 - Physical, AND Psychological.
 - Sexual harassment which involves behaviours such as unwanted sexual touching, inappropriate joking, exposure, making sexual advances or demeaning someone due to their sexual orientation, AND Racial harassment which involves behaviours such as social exclusion, teasing, taunting and threats based on another person's race.

- The causing of hurt by traditional methods such as punching, kicking and spreading hurtful rumours, AND The causing of hurt by contemporary means such as cyber bullying, sexting, engaging in identity theft or by trashing someone on social networking sites.

The key features of bullying are that it:

- causes hurt and distress,
- is repeated,
- involves the use of power in an unfair way.

Bullying need not always be done by the older or stronger. "Bullying up" is bullying done by the smaller, the younger and the weaker, who either use anonymous means to bully, such as cyber bullying, or overt means to bully, knowing that any retaliation would make the provoked person look like they are the bully.

Symptoms of Bullying

For behaviour to be classified as bullying, it needs to involve repeated actions that are designed to cause hurt. Not having friends or not being popular isn't necessarily a sign that a person is being bullied. It may simply mean a person lacks inter-personal skills. There is a difference between bullying behaviour and what can be described as normal interpersonal conflict.

The symptoms associated with bullying include, but are not limited to; not wanting to go to school, anger, tears, depression, low self-esteem and a raft of psychosomatic symptoms such as headaches and stomach aches. Bed-wetting and sleeplessness can also be symptoms of bullying, particularly in the young. Withdrawal and reluctance to 'join in' can be a warning sign, as can truancy, misbehaviour and aggressive behaviour. Cuts, bruising, torn clothing, requests for extra food or money as well as a decline in academic performance can also be clues that a student may be suffering from bullying.

- Any form of bullying is unworthy of a Kingsman and against all that The King's School stands for. Those who are identified as bullies will be dealt with firmly and may be expelled from the School.

Cyber Bullying

Cyber bullying is causing hurt via modern technologies such as the Internet and other forms of social media, and through the use of smart phones and other mobile devices.

Cyber bullying is a growing problem in society. Modern technologies empower the individual, even the most unlikely of individuals, with an immense capacity to cause harm. It is also an attractive means of bullying for it can, under certain conditions, be carried out with relative anonymity.

Cyber bullying can be particularly damaging because of the capacity it has to humiliate, hurt and harm a person in front of a huge 'audience'.

A dangerous feature of cyber bullying is that it can be done quickly and easily. On an impulse, a person can create emotional havoc for another and do so before the voice of reason hints at the inappropriateness of the action.

A further problem with cyber bullying is that the bully is often unaware of the extent of the harm they are causing because cyber bullying seldom occurs face-to-face. The feedback is muted by distance so that the bully is protected from an understanding of the awfulness of their behaviour.

Cyber bullying represents unlawful activity that may result in police laying charges. Cyber bullying has been linked to depression, self-harm and even suicide.

Examples of Cyber bullying:

- Sending hateful or threatening comments or pictures via MSN, mobile phone or the Internet and by social networking sites such as MySpace and Facebook.
- Using modern technologies to engage in the social exclusion of someone and in hate group recruitment.
- Posting rude, explicit or embarrassing messages or pictures about someone on the Net.
- Stealing someone's identity in order to harm them in some way.
- Putting pressure on a person to send revealing or compromising pictures of themselves.
- Covertly filming, recording or taking a picture of someone and posting the images on the Net to cause hurt.
- 'Outing' and disseminating confidential information about someone.
- 'Flaming' and multi-messaging to clog up a person's electronic system and to cause them distress.
- Using aliases and pseudonyms in chat rooms and on social networking sites in order to harass and upset.
- Engaging in cyber-stalking and the invading of privacy.
- Referring to your school in a negative or disparaging way on the Net.

Sexting

Another expression of cyber bullying is sexting.

Sexting is taking sexually explicit photos and making them available for others to see via a carriage service such as mobile phone or computer.

Sending explicit images of anyone, including yourself, is a crime if you are under the age of 18 years. If the person in the picture is under 16 years, it can be a very serious crime resulting in charges of paedophilia.

Cyber anonymity

Students need to remember that something sent electronically can never be entirely removed even with a press of the 'delete' button. The image may emerge at any stage in their future life and lead to serious consequences.

Using pseudonyms, passwords and avatars does not protect the identity of a cyber bully. Technologies exist to identify those who mis-use modern technologies to harm others.

- Do not engage in cyber bullying.
- Do not post any image or comment that is designed to cause hurt. It is morally wrong and in many cases, it is also illegal.

STUDENTS NEED TO REMEMBER THAT SOMETHING SENT ELECTRONICALLY CAN NEVER BE ENTIRELY REMOVED EVEN WITH A PRESS OF THE 'DELETE' BUTTON.

It should also be noted that even if cyber bullying is engaged in while not at school, the matter will be taken up by the School because the moral welfare of its students is of importance to The King's School as is anything that brings the School into disrepute.

Students can protect themselves from some forms of cyber harm by noting the following advice:

1. Never tell anyone, even your friends, your passwords, private details or access codes.
2. When speaking to someone you do not know on the Net, be aware they may not be who they say they are.
3. Be aware that there are predators who use the internet to lure young people into inappropriate sexual relationships. Others use tricks, such as pretending to be a bank, to get the victim to share their confidential financial details. This usually results in identity fraud and the stealing of money.
4. Never tell people you do not know well what your address is, or how they can meet up with you.
5. Always be careful what you say or what you show a person in confidence on the Net for it is never guaranteed to remain confidential. The information may be sent on to others.
6. Know that the most frequent use of the Net is for illegal activities such as scams, pornography and gambling.

Finally, if you find yourself the victim of cyber bullying, keep the evidence and report the bullying to an appropriate adult. It is generally best not to respond to the cyber bully, or give them any satisfaction they have caused you hurt. If you do respond to the bully, do not do so while hot with anger. This can result in mutual cyber bullying which means both parties become guilty of bullying.

● One's "digital footprint" may be accessed many years after material is posted online and used by others, eg. prospective employers and the media.

- Encouraging staff to adopt classroom management techniques that discourage opportunities for bullying behaviours.
- Employing staff who model tolerance, empathy and acceptance of individual differences.
- Encouraging staff to take their supervision duties seriously so that there is a pervasive sense of staff presence when on duty.
- Reviewing the School's anti-bullying policy from time-to-time, in order to ensure that it remains effective and relevant.

AN "ANNUAL REPORT ON BULLYING AT THE KING'S SCHOOL" WILL BE PREPARED SUMMARISING THE QUANTITATIVE DATA DRAWN FROM RECORDS KEPT AND SURVEYS UNDERTAKEN AT THE SCHOOL.

The effectiveness of these strategies rests with ALL members of the School's community.

To assist the Headmaster to assess the success or otherwise of the anti-bullying strategies being pursued, an "Annual Report on Bullying at The King's School" will be prepared that summarises the quantitative data drawn from records kept and surveys undertaken at the School. The Annual Report will contain a section on the conclusions that can be drawn from that data along with comparisons against previous years' conclusions to enable an understanding as to whether bullying is being reduced or is increasing.

To assist the Headmaster in preparing the Annual Report on bullying, the School's Student Support Team will have their responsibilities expanded to include the preparation of that Annual Report. The Team will also be responsible for reviewing anti-bullying measures and making recommendations to amend these with the aim of reducing instances of bullying.

The Student Support Team is Chaired by the School Chaplain and will be comprised of representatives from the School's Pastoral Support Service areas, the Senior School and the Preparatory School. The Team will be assisted by the Deputy Bursar in preparing the Annual Report, which will be submitted to the School Council each year.

The King's School reserves the right to alter the means and ways by which it discourages bullying. If any should like to suggest an improvement in the way bullying might be discouraged at The King's School, they are invited to send their suggestions to the Deputy Headmaster or the Head of the Preparatory School.

What should you do if you are being bullied?

If you are being bullied, it is important that you talk to an adult who is in a position to help you.

There can be a reluctance to report bullying because of a fear of being labelled a 'dobber' and going against an unwritten code of student behaviour. This concern is understandable but must not prevent you from reporting bullying behaviour. Most students dislike bullying and would support your attempts to stop it.

Some students may not want to report bullying because they feel it might only make matters worse. Again, this fear is understandable, but most teachers are trained in ways to help victims of bullying in a manner that protects the victim.

It can take courage to challenge the bully, to expose them for who they are and to play a part in improving our community by ridding it of bullying behaviour. The King's School expects its students to show this courage and not tolerate bullying as a bystander or as a victim.

Our school motto "fortiter et fideliter" means "bravely and faithfully" and that is what is expected of Kingsmen – that they be brave and faithful in getting rid of any bullying they encounter. Everyone at The King's School should be committed to making the School a safe and happy community.

If you are being bullied, you must tell a responsible adult who has the capacity to help. Options include:

- Parents, guardian or adult relatives.
- Teacher, Coach, Housemaster, Year Coordinator, Tutor.
- Counsellor, Chaplain.
- Headmaster, Deputy Headmaster, Head of the Preparatory School or any member of the School Executive.

Others who can be informed include:

- Monitors, Prefects, House or School Captain.
- Doctor or Nurse at the School's Health Centre.
- Matron.

REMEMBER

The King's School is committed to providing a safe and happy learning environment. Therefore, the School

IT CAN TAKE COURAGE TO CHALLENGE THE BULLY, TO EXPOSE THEM FOR WHO THEY ARE AND TO PLAY A PART IN IMPROVING OUR COMMUNITY BY RIDDING IT OF BULLYING BEHAVIOUR.

I will be pleased to know if there are
I any bullying behaviours that are
I undermining this goal.

If you are being bullied, you are encouraged to do the RITE thing:

R = RECOGNISE

you have the right to feel safe and to operate in an environment free of bullying.

I = INFORM

the bullies that you want them to stop. Do this in a polite but firm way.

T = TELL

a responsible adult about the bullying.

E = EVALUATE

the situation. If it does not improve, seek further help.

- When bullied, try not to get angry or show that you are angry. If your anger is obvious, the bully has the satisfaction of knowing that they have controlled your emotions.
- Admit to imperfections. It can send positive messages about you having a realistic understanding of yourself.
- Use non-offensive humour. Bullying can be blunted by a good laugh. The capacity to laugh at yourself can create a bonding with a group that might otherwise remain hostile.

- Review your own behaviours and body language. If you look like a victim you can become a victim. Squared shoulders and a smile can do much to deter a bully.
- Avoid trouble spots. There are always places that are high-risk areas for bullying. Avoid them.
- Develop your 'emotional quotient'. This includes the ability to read body language, to sense mood, to be intuitive and empathetic. Such skills not only make you less of a target, they can enable you to see where a situation may be heading. Early detection of possible bullying can provide options for avoiding it.
- Surround yourself with good friends. Those with strong friendships are usually less of a target for bullies.
- If bullied, try not to retaliate for this can often inflame the situation.
- If you are being bullied, remind yourself that it is the bully who has the problem, not you. Try to think through what inadequacies the bully might have that causes them to behave this way. Understanding a bully is a great way to begin to solve the problem.

Don't be a victim

Victims can attract bullying behaviour. This is not to excuse bullying or condone it in any way. It is to suggest that victims can sometimes reduce their chances of being a target if they:

- Maintain good self-esteem.
- Work on fitting in, getting involved and making a rich contribution to the School.
- Model kindness, thoughtfulness and respect.
- Don't catastrophise situations out of all proportion.
- Develop an ability to deal with:
 - Failure and success
 - Threats and fear
 - Rejection and disappointment
 - Anger and hurt
- Try and maintain good physical fitness, it can help with resilience.

Having noted the above, it is vital that anyone who is a victim of bullying recognise that they have been wronged. They must report the matter and not suffer in silence.

IF YOU ARE BEING BULLIED TELL SOMEONE.

How to help a son who is being bullied

Introduction

The most important thing a parent can do to help a son who is being bullied is to provide love and reassurance and to support them in their quest to solve the problem. A report of bullying by a son should always be taken seriously.

Parents can take comfort that the bully-free world they want for their son is also wanted by the School. Therefore, parents are invited to contact the School should they become aware that their son is being bullied. The School appreciates being able to partner with parents in solving bullying problems.

Finding out

Sometimes, a son can be reluctant to tell their parents that they are being bullied. Creating a culture of openness within the home can help. Solutions can be as simple as having evening meals together, without the distraction of the television, and making it a regular habit to enquire how a son is feeling.

It can be useful to use an intermediary such as an older sibling, grandparent or close friend in order to find out if a son is being bullied. Use can also be made of the family doctor, child psychologist or School counsellor.

What can parents do to reduce the chances of their son being bullied?

There are a number of things parents can do to reduce the chances of their son being bullied. These include:

- Developing their son's 'emotional quotient' (EQ). Sons who have been brought up without many brothers and sisters, or who spend a lot of time playing alone in front of the TV or computer screen, may need extra training in how to deal with the bumps and bruises of living in a community with others. They need to be trained in behaviours that others find attractive. They need to learn the social graces of sharing and of adapting behaviours that are appropriate to an occasion. This is particularly true of some cultures who may not fully understand the behavioural codes thought attractive to the predominant culture of the School.
- Teaching their son how to react when they are being bullied. The main message is that:

THEY MUST TELL SOMEONE

- Instituting good management systems in the home that monitor the presence, or otherwise, of cyber bullying. This includes, but is not limited to:
 - Making sure their son knows about the various forms of cyber bullying and how to identify them.
 - Reminding sons not to share personal details, passwords, security or access information with anyone, even their closest friends.

- Advising their son that if they suffer from cyber bullying, to save the information and report it to the proper authorities.
- Becoming more computer literate and knowing about such things as privacy settings and net filters.
- Occasionally Googling their son's name to see what is being posted about him online.
- Encouraging their son to conduct himself properly in "Cyberia" and to ensure that his "digital footprint" is one he, and his parents, would be proud of.
- Reminding their sons of the deceit and scams that are prevalent on the Net.
- Encouraging computer use in an open family area, so that there is effective monitoring of online activity.
- Partnering with the School. When some parents hear that their son has been bullied they can get very angry. This is entirely understandable. However, this anger can become destructive if it spills over and alienates those agencies that can help, such as the School. The King's School abhors bullying and, as shown in Section 3 of the School's anti-bullying policy, takes active steps to try and reduce bullying.
- Avoiding over-protective parenting. Most King's parents are wonderful at parenting. However, a few parents engage in over protection or 'helicopter parenting'. These parents can be difficult to work with as they are prone to 'bubble wrapping' their son and to catastrophising hurt. Sons readily pick up on this behaviour and can become adept at feeding their parents yet more tales of horror to gain extra sympathy and attention.

- Avoiding premature judgement. Sometimes parents will react angrily to facts reported by their son, but on investigation by the School, these 'facts' are sometimes not accurate. It is wise to test facts before making judgements.
- Being patient. The School is committed to investigating a bullying allegation in a manner that protects the rights of all involved, including the bully. This is not the School failing to take immediate action to punish someone, it is the School exercising procedural fairness. It is also important to let the School look into the matter rather than challenging the bully directly, or the parents of the bully.
- For younger children – know your child's password and occasionally monitor social networking sites. They should be aware you will do so.
- Being supportive. Dealing with a son who is a bully can be particularly difficult for a parent. Some will support the School, others will not and will sometimes exhibit those same behaviours that have landed their son in trouble as a bully. On the other side of the equation are parents that are outraged because their son has been bullied. This can lead to the School being sandwiched between two sets of angry parents. Support and understanding is sought from parents of alleged bullies and alleged victims when the School is investigating an accusation of bullying.

Finally

The King's School is committed to providing a safe and secure environment for its students. In order to achieve this end, the School will review its anti-bullying policies and procedures from time to time. If there are any within The King's community who would like to recommend improvements to the School's anti-bullying policy, you are welcome to send your ideas to the Deputy Headmaster or the Head of the Preparatory School.
